REPORT NO.

The assault battalion of the Peruvian army was placed on full alert status on 15 April in anticipation of a rumored attempt on the life of General Odria expected to take place over the Easter week-end. Additional troops were stationed at the governmental palace. This is the first time this year that such an alert has occurred.

Comment. The significance of these events is as yet unclear, but it is believed that such threats could now come only from dissatisfied military or extreme rightist groups. A combination of these elements, led by Lt. Col. Alfonso Llosa, has been forming for some time.
